Red Cross Volunteers Honored With Dinner

Thirty-five Red Cross hospital volunteers were honored Monday night at the annual dinner given by the Murray-Calloway County Hospital Board. Stuart Poston, hospital administrator, told those gathered that he was glad the dinner could be held in the new hospital cafeteria as he had been promising for two years.

Members of the hospital board attending the dinner were Martha Broach, board chairman, Stanford Andrus, Graham Feltner, James Garrison, Faye Key, Robert O. Miller and Jane Sisk. Former board members Holmes Ellis and Hazel Beale were also present.

Members of the Red Cross board are Dr. Harry Sparks, chairman, Stuart

Poston, Sid Easley, Dr. Ruth Cole, Lester Nanny, Rex Alexander, Robert O. Miller, Holmes Ellis, Harvey Ellis, Karl Hussung, Fleetwood Crouch, Max Hurt, Henry Holton, Leonard Vaughn, Walt Apperson and Paul Kelsow.

Jean Blankenship, executive secretary of the Calloway County Chapter of the American Red Cross, pointed out that the hospital volunteers had donated 4,460 1/2 hours during the past year. The time donated amounts to $15,356, in addition to magazines delivered to patients and families valued at more than $1,990.

Mrs. Kathryn Glover is volunteer service chairman. These volunteers worked in many capacities in the hospital, such as at the lobby desk, delivering mail, in the library, dietary and in the long-term care unit.

Hospital personnel who work with the volunteer program in addition to Poston are Kathy Hodge, Juanita Spiceland, Anne Flood, Terry Tatrok and Jane Hopson.

Receiving service pins from Mrs. Blankenship were new volunteers Frances Brown, Kathryn McCauley, Emma Knight, Betty Dixon, Cheryl Pierce and Jane Fitch. Welcomed back to the organization after five previous years of service was Frances Erwin.

Volunteers receiving one-year service pins were Corinne McNutt with 284 1/2 hours, Pat Winchester, Leone Travis, and Art Lynch with 335 1/2 volunteer hours.

Committee Recommends Hike In City Stickers Cost

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Editor

A seven-percent pay increase for city employees coupled with a hike in vehicle licenses taxes (city stickers) is expected to be recommended to the Murray Common Council by its budget committee when the council considers the 1979 city budget later this month.

Anticipated general fund and revenue sharing receipts for the City of Murray will total $1,843,665 — almost $180,000 more than the current year's budget — according to information supplied by Mayor Melvin B. Henley Monday night.

The budget committee — council members Marshall Jones, C. C. Lowry and Stephen Yarbrough — agreed to the following recommendations at Monday's session:

- Increase the city sticker price for cars and trucks of 1 1/2 tons or less from $10 to $15.

- Increase the city sticker price for trucks greater than 1 1/2 tons from $10 to $25.
- Increase the city sticker for motorcycles, motorbikes, etc. from $2 to $3.
- Increase the fine for parking meter violations from 50 cents to $1, if the fine is paid within 24 hours, and $5 after that time.

One-Way Streets To Be Subject Of Meeting

By LOWELL ATCHLEY
Staff Reporter

Murray Planning Commission and the public safety committee of Murray City Council are expected to meet in a joint session with Kentucky Department of Transportation officials soon to talk about the impact of creating some one-way streets in Murray.

Planning commissioners requested such a joint meeting Monday night during a commission "work session" and after they learned Bryan Stewart, a planning engineer with Kentucky Department of Transportation in Paducah, will be meeting with public safety committee members to talk about potentially "one waying" some Murray city streets.

Murray City Planner Steve Zea said officials are expected to look closely at Poplar, Olive and Main, and some north-south streets as possible one-way thoroughfares. Zea said today one-waying may be necessary once building is complete on expanded portions of Murray-Calloway County Hospital and Professional Office Building and traffic increases around that section of town.

Planning commissioners also Monday night:

- Elected officers for 1979. W.A. Franklin was again elected chairman by acclamation, Greg McKeel will be vice-chairman and Judy Mastera, secretary;

- Set a public hearing for the next regularly scheduled planning commission meeting on an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would allow privately owned outdoor recreation

See PLANNERS,

The vehicle license tax increases are estimated to produce an additional $40,000 for the city's general fund, Henley told the committee, hiking the receipts from the tax from this year's $94,500 figure to $124,500 in 1979.

The preliminary figures the committee is working with indicate anticipated increases in revenue in several areas. Included is a hike in property tax revenues from $454,611 this year to $520,000 in 1979 and an increase in insurance tax revenues from $150,000 in 1978 to $170,000 next year.

Mayor Henley said he expects the city's revenues for 1979 to exceed expenditures by some $19,000 and that sum will be earmarked to go toward the purchase of a new fire truck in 1980. He explained that the Insurance Services Organization, an agency which classifies cities in Kentucky for fire insurance purposes, is expected to rule as inadequate one of the city's fire trucks which is nearing 20 years old, necessitating its replacement.

The committee also recommended that the city's contribution to the operation of the Murray-Calloway County Park be raised from $35,000 to $36,000, $2,000 less than requested by the park board.

Council members W. R. Furches, Billy Balentine and Howard Koenen also attended Monday's committee meeting.

Carolers To Raise Money For Needline

"Carolers For Need Line" for the holiday season are needed for its annual caroling "fund raising" project each year, according to Betty Boston, Need Line board member and chairman of the Carolers for Need Line this year.

Mrs. Boston said "raise your spirits and our bank account" by participating in this special service. Canisters will be provided each group to collect any funds the public would care to donate as the carolers sing at the various homes or businesses. Bible handouts from the American Bible Society have also been obtained for the carolers to hand out.

Any person or groups desiring to volunteer for this service may call Need Line, 753-6333, giving their name, organization, and any other necessary information.

Need Line is a community information screening and referral service that has been in existence since 1974, and it focuses its efforts towards meeting human needs and problems. It is an agency which attempts to link the client to other community resources that might prove useful in meeting individual needs, according to Eupal Ward, executive director, and her assistant, Deanna Wolf. The office, located at 203 South Fifth Street, Murray, is now open Monday through Friday.

In House Committee Chairmen Meeting Today

Imes To Recommend Quick Adjournment Of Session

By LOWELL ATCHLEY
Staff Reporter

State Rep. Kenny Imes is expected to recommend that committee chairmen in the Kentucky House back an adjournment, rather than Christmas recess, of Kentucky General Assembly when it convenes in special session next week.

Imes, in a telephone interview Monday night, said Democratic committee chairman in the House are expected to confer today in a meeting House Speaker William Kenton, D-Lexington, called to talk "logistics."

Imes, a Murray Democrat, chairs the powerful House committee on state government.

The General Assembly is slated to convene next Monday after Lt. Gov. Thelma Stovall, acting while Kentucky Gov. Julian Carroll was out of state, called an extraordinary session.

"I'm going to recommend that we go ahead and meet next week, get some bills introduced, then adjourn sine die if we can get a commitment from the governor that he will call us back," Imes said.

According to an Associated Press story today, Kentucky Attorney General's Office is expected to issue an opinion today that legislators must be paid for any recess during the special session.

Imes said an adjournment rather than a recess would enable legislators "to avoid the pay problem."

The representative said "it was my understanding" the governor "was going to call a special session in January or February" anyway.

"It's going to be difficult to get anything done with any degree of accuracy or continuity (next week)," Imes said. He indicated that if Assembly members choose to adjourn, ending the session, bills introduced during the session would have to be re-introduced should Gov. Carroll call another special session early next year.

"We would have a basic idea of what bills would be there...the interim committees could be meeting and the A and R (appropriations and revenue) committee could get an idea of where we're going to have to cut," Imes explained.

Lt. Gov. Stovall has listed proposals to cut taxes and changes in court fines on the agenda for the special session.

The state representative said that if committee chairmen follow his recommendation, the suggestion would be forwarded to the governor. He said his conversations with other committee chairmen indicate they "seem to think it is a good idea."

Carroll Claims His Aides Have Already Provided Stovall Data

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll said today his aides already have provided information sought by Lt. Gov. Thelma Stovall on the state's $211 capital construction fund.

Mrs. Stovall used her powers as acting governor Monday to ask state Auditor George Atkins for a special audit of that fund. Her office contended it could not obtain the information earlier.

Imes said "there will be tax cuts" during the session.

The Murray state representative said he has a bill filed with Legislative Research Commission "which would accomplish a utility tax cut" and "be more fair to lower income people."

Imes' measure calls for no taxes for the first $40 on monthly electric bills of those persons who have all electric heat; for those who heat by electricity and natural gas, no taxes on the first $20 of each of the bills; and for those who heat by coal, fuel oil, kerosene, 75 percent of the bill would be tax exempt.

Imes said the tax cut measure he offers would mean a cut less than an across-the-board utility tax cut. "It would be a more reasonable approach and something that could be passed," he said.

Imes said he also plans to co-sponsor a measure making traffic fines in the state proportionate to the offense. "Some of the fines now are entirely too high for the traffic violation," Imes said.

But Carroll, planning to return tonight from Las Vegas, commented: "By seeking further assistance at this late date before the General Assembly convenes, Mrs. Stovall has made it even more apparent how ill thought out her call for a special session was."

Last month, in Carroll's absence, Mrs. Stovall called a special legislative session and said she would offer a tax relief package and other proposals.

Her latest action while the governor was gone sought the audit of money which has been set aside for buildings and facilities. Presumably, it might be used if any tax reductions necessitated additional financing for the current biennium.

Members of Mrs. Stovall's staff said Monday she asked for the audit because of difficulty in getting information from the state Department of Finance about

Vinson Says He Will Make Plans Official After Special Session

Mancel J. Vinson, Calloway County farmer and Murray State University alumni director, will officially announce his Democratic candidacy for Commissioner of Agriculture following the Special Legislative Session and the holiday season.

Dr. E. B. Howton, retired chairman of the Murray State University Department of Agriculture and former teacher of Vinson, today endorsed Vinson's 10-point program for farmers in Kentucky. Dr. Howton, who was chosen Distinguished Professor at Murray State in 1974, was named "Man of the Year in Kentucky Agriculture" in 1971 by the Farm Press and Radio Association of Kentucky.

"Mr. Vinson's 13 years as assistant commissioner of Agriculture will qualify him for the top post in agriculture in Kentucky," Professor Howton said. "He was a fine student in my classes and was voted 'Outstanding Agricultural Alumnus of Murray State' in 1965. Howton, an alumnus and let-terman of Western Kentucky State University, is currently a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

The Citizens Committee for Vinson was filed with the State Board of Elections on May 8, 1978. This committee has solicited views of farmers and business leaders on rural and farm conditions. Vinson reports that results of this survey indicate that Kentuckians are "deeply concerned" about these 10 needs:

1. Promotion of the tobacco industry.
2. Additional income derived from new agricultural enterprises, but with the limitation of foreign ownership of Kentucky farm land.

3. Control of devastating inflation.
4. Improvement of agricultural marketing and transportation, both domestic and foreign.

5. Establishment of fair market prices for producers and consumers.
6. Better relations between the farmer and consumer.

7. Greater emphasis on rural development.
8. Better coordination between agencies and organizations in dealing with agricultural and rural problems.

9. Increased emphasis on certain conservation practices.
10. More effective promotion in behalf of Kentucky's livestock enterprises.

PROFESSOR HELPS STUDENT — Dr. E. B. Howton, professor emeritus of agriculture at Murray State University, is conferring with his former student, (at right) Mancel J. Vinson, who plans to announce soon his candidacy for the Democratic nomination of Commissioner of Agriculture in Kentucky. The "book" they are perusing is an outline of the "contacts" and issues that the Committee for Vinson will utilize in the coming campaign.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

He's Not Mucho Macho

DEAR ABBY: Now I've heard everything. Our lawyer son plans to marry a young woman lawyer. But instead of her taking our son's name, HE is going to change HIS name to HERS! They plan to set up a law office together as "Blank and Blank." (The blank being her maiden name.)

I asked them what name their children would have, and they said they'd deal with that if and when it came up!

My question: What about perpetuating our family name? He is our only son, and if he doesn't pass our name on to his children that will be the end of the line. Do you blame us for feeling hurt and upset?

BURNING IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR BURNING: Appeal his decision to let her wear the shingle in the family. Plead your case again. He has the right to change his name, but you have the right to try to change his mind.

DEAR ABBY: I would appreciate a published reply to my problem so that others who share it will benefit.

I recently underwent surgery for the removal of a tumor which proved to be malignant. I have every reason to believe that the surgeon removed every trace of the tumor and that there will be no recurrence. Because most people think every cancer victim is "terminal," I choose not to mention it in connection with my surgery. I don't want to worry my friends and family, nor could I tolerate their constant inquiries about my condition.

My problem is what to tell those well-intentioned friends who ask, "Was it malignant?"

I don't want to lie. But if I tell the truth, I know they'll worry even though I try to reassure them.

I feel that I have the right to keep the details of my personal life private. Bear in mind, these people mean well, so I wouldn't want to hurt them with a snappish or rude reply. But what should I say?

MRS. X.

DEAR MRS. X.: Say, "Time will tell." That's the truth.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old legal secretary and I don't mind telling you I feel plenty foolish writing to Dear Abby, but here goes:

I still live with my mother. Mum is 54, divorced, in good health and does part-time work when she feels like it. She drives her own car and has no money worries. Mum makes no effort to make friends of her own, but expects me to include her in everything I do.

If I make plans without her she pouts and won't speak to me for days. She also finds something wrong with every man who shows an interest in me.

I would like to move into a place of my own, but my mother does a guilt number on me every time I bring it up. She accuses me of being ungrateful and selfish. (She raised me alone, having divorced Dad when I was 5.)

I do love her and I am grateful, but I've got to start living my own life!

What do you suggest?

SMOTHERED IN CLEVELAND

DEAR SMOTHERED: For openers, find an apartment and tell your mother you're moving. Then move. You will be doing yourself and your mother a favor. When she realizes she must cultivate a social life of her own, she'll make the effort—but not until.

Rawlins-Stinnett Vows Are Planned

Miss Debra Jayne Rawlins

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Rawlins of Madisonville announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Debra Jayne, to James Michael Stinnett, son of Mrs. Chichi Stinnett of 602 Meadow Lane, Murray, and the late Houston Stinnett.

The bride-elect is employed at the Hopkins County Hospital, Madisonville. The groom-elect is a junior at Murray State University.

The wedding vows will be read on Friday, Dec. 29, at 5 p.m. at the Parkview United Methodist Church, Madisonville.

All relatives and friends are invited to attend the wedding.

Zetas To Meet Thursday; Style Show Held Recently

The Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club will meet Thursday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Gene & Jo's Florist. Each member may bring one guest, according to Betty Lou Farris, vice-chairman of the department.

Hostesses will be Rebecca West, Betty Scott, Betty Lou Farris, Jo Elkins, and Leila Erwin.

At the November 16th meeting of the department held at the club house, the Mademoiselle Shop presented a style show of cruise and Christmas styles with Betty Lowry as narrator and also a model along with Kay Ray, Shirley Boone, Jo Oakley, Peggy Billington, Janna Hughes, Exie Hill, Frances McKeel, and Margaret Kirkland.

Barbara Knight and Mary Thompson coordinated the show, according to Jo Elkins, department program chairman for the evening.

Dewdrop Rowlett, department chairman, presided. New members of the department introduced were Wilma Dillon, Dorothy Overbey, Marion Rigby, Joan Mischke, and Janet Kirks.

A social hour was held with refreshments in the holiday motif being served from a decorated tea table. Hostesses were Rose Marie Bryan, Ruth Caldwell, Hallie Kopperud, Sue Wicker, Ruth Blackwood, and Mary Frances Bell.

HEALTH

Vitamin C won't help colds

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Now that we are in the cold and flu season again, I would like to know what ever happened to the idea that vitamin C prevents colds? Should I take lots of vitamin C this winter to protect me or is it just a waste of money?

DEAR READER — Unfortunately, a number of carefully planned research studies have failed to show that vitamin C does any good in either preventing or curing a cold. Originally one study suggested it might decrease the symptoms or shorten the duration of the cold but subsequent studies by the same group of investigators proved this to be a false lead.

I am sending you "The Health Letter" number 3-3, Vitamin C (Ascorbic Acid), to give you information on what vitamin C will do for you. You do need it but not in large amounts. The best place to get it is from a well-balanced diet that includes plenty of fresh fruit and vegetables.

Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — You may think this is an odd question but it is important to me. What are the symptoms of tapeworms in humans? How does someone get it?

DEAR READER — It depends on what kind of tapeworm you are talking about. You can get a tapeworm from fish, or you can have a beef tapeworm or a pork tapeworm. The fish tapeworm is the largest tapeworm in man and it may be 10 meters long and have over 4,000 segments.

Infection with the tapeworm is not rare among people who make their own gefilte fish. They may sample it while they are making it. You can protect yourself from fish tapeworm by being sure the fish is adequately cooked before it is eaten or if the fish is frozen for 48 hours at minus-10 degrees C. Fish tapeworm is most common in Canada, Northern United States, Alaska, Central Europe and the Scandinavian area around the Baltic Sea.

The fish tapeworm can cause severe anemia. For some reason the tapeworm has a great affinity for vitamin B-12 and folic acid. Since the worm absorbs these from the intestine, it doesn't leave enough for the person who has the tapeworm. This can result in pernicious anemia and the multiple complications that are associated with it.

By contrast, a beef tapeworm is not likely to cause any specific symptoms. Sometimes mild distress in the pit of the abdomen has been described or loss of appetite. The worms may be five to 10 meters long. It's a relatively uncommon problem in the United States, although it does occur in South America, Mexico and areas where raw beef is eaten.

The pork tapeworm is more dangerous in many ways than either the fish tapeworm or the beef tapeworm. In one stage of its development it can penetrate the intestinal wall and invade the body tissues producing a variety of different symptoms. This is a rare infection in North America and Western Europe.

In all of these the adult worm attaches itself to the wall of the intestine and the ribbon-like segment may break off and be passed in the stool. The loss of the segmented, ribbon-like structures of the body that are passed does not eliminate the worm from the intestine. As long as the head remains attached firmly in the intestinal wall, it can continue to grow more segments.

Most people don't pay much attention to the investments made by their life insurance company.

Yet, these investments play an important role in the cost of your life insurance, reports the American Council of Life Insurance.

The reason: Investments earn interest which company actuaries anticipate when they calculate premiums.

If you're 35 years old, for example, you could be paying as much as 65 percent more for your insurance were it not for the interest earned by your company's investments.

After the ceremony, members and their guests attended a pizza party at Paglia's.

Miller-Buckingham Vows Read In Garden Ceremony

In a garden wedding solemnized at the Murray Woman's Clubhouse, Miss Alisa Ann Miller and Mark Hutson Buckingham were united in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mrs. Louise Taylor Miller, of Mayfield, and Mr. Buckingham's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ray Buckingham, of Murray.

Grandmother of the bride is Mrs. Robbie Taylor of Mayfield. Mr. Buckingham is the grandson of Mrs. Ray Buckingham, of Murray, and the late Mr. Buckingham.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Bro. Norman Crittenden, of Memphis and Bro. Robert Emerson, also of Memphis.

Miss Teresa Lamb, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Miss Debbie Smith attended the guest register, which held a vase of long-stemmed roses.

Vows were exchanged before a background of statuary holding arrangement of silk wild flowers of plum color. Framing the scene was a gazebo of white wrought iron.

Bride's Dress

Given in marriage by her uncle, Bill Taylor of Murray, by whom she was escorted to the altar, the bride wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal taffette, featuring a fitted bodice with scoop neckline outlined in rows of the lace. Long, tapered sleeves ended in flounces at the wrists.

Her full, flowing skirt was outlined with rows of lace, and extended to form a chapel-length train.

In her hair she wore a cluster of silk flowers which matched her bouquet of plum-colored silk wild flowers with satin ribbons. Her jewelry was a gold heart necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Vicki Hinchey. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tom Floyd, also a sister, of the bride; Miss Ann Boyd, Miss Sally Hollis and Miss Denina Ray, the bride's cousin.

The attendants wore formal-length gowns of plum-colored tulle, fashioned with scoop necklines encircled by beige lace. The lace also finished the hemlines of the softly-gathered skirts. Sleeves were Juliet-type.

The flower girl, Miss Heather Grogan, cousin of the bridegroom, wore a dress designed identically to those worn by the other feminine attendants, and scattered flower petals in the path of the bride.

Eric Hinchey, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

David Buckingham served as the bridegroom's best man. Groomsmen were Bobby Knight, Brad Barnett, Cliff Dibble and Ken Grogan. Serving as ushers were Shane Ray and Brad Taylor, cousins of the bride, and Rick Hatfield.

Miss Taylor wore for her granddaughter's wedding a two-piece suite of mint green, of informal length, fashioned with long sleeves, and matching scarf. Her corsage was of silk wildflowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hutson Buckingham

Mrs. Buckingham selected for her sons' wedding a street-length dress of tulle, styled with long sleeves and gathered skirt. She wore a corsage of white wild flowers.

Mrs. Myron Ray, the bride's cousin, served as wedding coordinator.

Reception

A reception was held at the clubhouse following the ceremony.

The serving table was overlaid with a white linen cloth, and centered with a statuary arrangement of wild flowers, in various shades of plum.

The three-tiered wedding cake of ivory, was decorated with pink rosebuds, and was set atop of miniature fountain.

Assisting in serving were Miss Vivian Johnson, Miss Pat Wade, Miss Teresa Downing and Miss Cathy Burken. Rice bags were distributed by Miss Michelle Ray.

The couple is now residing in Murray after a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn.

CHRISTMAS-PAST CREPES were demonstrated by Dr. John Tuttle, left, Poultry Specialist with the Extension Service of the University of Kentucky, Lexington, at the special interest lesson on the subject for members of the Calloway County Homemakers Clubs and interested persons on Wednesday morning, Nov. 29, at the Calloway County Extension Office. Assisting Dr. Tuttle is Ruby Burchett, right, of the Wadesboro Club. Others present for the lesson were Diana Rabatin, Progressive Club; Ruth Parker and Maudena Buttermore, Penny Club; Virginia Sokelson, Wilma Dillon, Katherine Ray, Eleanor D'Angelo, and Margaret Taylor, Harris Grove Club; LaVerna Hardie, Wadesboro Club; Florene Shoemaker, Wilma Beatty, and Maxine Scott, Pacers Club; Maudie Kennerly and guest, Jean Moore, New Providence Club; Clara Bramley, Cheerful Club; Erma Outland, Muri Robertson, and Annie Lee Gunter, North Murray Club; Jean Clear, Jane Steely, Ted Howard, and Krista Maupin, Extension Staff.

Why Do Businesses Fail?

In the past three years there have been twice as many business failures as in 1932, the worst year of the Great Depression. Unsound business decisions based on inadequate records are a prime reason for these failures. The Certified Public Accountant—CPA—provides a complete range of accounting and management advisory services.

- preparation of basic accounting records and financial statements
- assistance with payroll and income tax returns
- advice on business decisions such as budgeting, planning and financing

Businesses are constantly faced with decisions and problems. The CPA has training and an independent approach to guide the businessman in making sound business decisions. The CPA provides all these services to help businesses survive and succeed.

Red Cross Volunteers, Hospital Work Together

The theme of the annual Red Cross volunteers banquet held last night at the new hospital cafeteria was "Community's Best Bargain-Because of You." Jean Blankenship, the Red Cross executive director, praised the 36 honored volunteer workers and pointed out how the volunteers and the hospital work hand in hand to help the entire community.

At a time when volunteers are backing away from many projects, it is a credit to our community to see people helping people and groups working together.

The Red Cross Volunteers worked a total of 4,359½ hours on a gratis basis. The group of 36, if paid at a going wage, would have received at least $15,356.25. Add to this the Red Cross Water Safety program at $23,800; First Aid Program for $4,350; Veteran benefits with assistance to those needing them in applications, etc., $43,450.00; Social Services, $13,800; the youth council, nursing services volunteered and disaster preparedness. That total sum would be $102,746.25. This comes free to our citizens. The Red Cross drive led by Stuart Poston, hospital administrator and host at the meeting, raised $9,245.00 in donations from the community. We received the $102,746.25 for less than $10,000 donated locally. That is a credit to all who give funds and time and remember this when the next Red Cross Drive begins.

Examples of the dedication included Della Taylor, who has been a volunteer for 18 years, and Art Lynch, who has given 532½ hours already in volunteer time this year. The 36 have all been willing to serve and deserve to be praised. Their names and picture appear in a story of the banquet today.

It gave pride to everyone attending to eat in the new hospital cafeteria and to have such an elegant meal served by Mrs. Ann Flood, the dietitian and her co-workers.

We can point with pride to our hospital, its 535 employees, the leadership of the hospital board and all others responsible for such progress in the community.

The Murray-Calloway County Hospital, with its able administrator, its employees, its board and many volunteers make it a prime accomplishment for this community. The Red Cross banquet was but one more example of people working together to help others and that is what Calloway Countians have done in the past and will do in the future.

Capitol Ideas

Office Space Time Arrives In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the season the most senior and powerful members of Congress assert their clout and make the first important decisions of the Congress that will formally enter the Capitol in January.

This is the season office space is allotted.

Great judgments must be made. Is a beautiful view of the Capitol more important than easy access to the House or Senate floor? Is the ambience of the high ceilings in the Russell Senate Office Building worth more than a few extra square feet of floor space in the newer, lower-ceilinged Dirksen Senate Office Building?

The nature of the system and Mother Nature herself usually decide the question of access to the floor. By the time a member of Congress has enough seniority to rate one of the desirable offices with easy floor access, he is old enough to value a reduction in the distance he has to walk.

And so the first office taken in the current scramble was the big corner suite in the Rayburn House Office Building that had been occupied by Rep. George Mahon, D-Texas, since 1964, when the building opened.

Mahon, the senior member of the 95th Congress, did not run for re-election. Not that his colleagues do not miss George. Of course, technically members of the old Congress still are in place until January. But there have been a lot of members with long looks on their faces as they pass Suite 2314.

But their dreams soon turned to dust. Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., who replaces Mahon as the senior member of the House, also exercised his seniority to take over the Texan's office.

Not that Whitten was getting by in a cramped basement hovel. He had one of the nice, spacious corner offices in the Rayburn Building, but is making the switch because Mahon's suite is closer to the subway to the Capitol and the House floor.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is giving up his high-ceilinged suite in the Russell Building and taking over the corner offices formerly occupied in the Dirksen Building by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The Eastland suite is a few steps down the hall from the offices of the Senate Judiciary Committee. With Eastland's retirement, Kennedy will become chairman of the committee.

Lobbyists for environmental groups generally rate Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, as one of the bad guys in Congress. Garn shrugs off their slings and arrows and tells the story of how one environmental lobbying group issued its ratings of members of Congress and found he had voted correctly, in their view, 11 percent of the time on environmental issues.

"They added a footnote saying I obviously hadn't understood the issue when I voted with them," Garn said.

Bible Thought

And he said unto them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. — Luke 9:23.

To deny self is to become unselfish in our love toward others. The "cross" is the sacrifice we take upon ourselves in behalf of our fellowmen. So then we follow the Christ who gave Himself for us.

Rainey T. Wells Is Remembered As Magnificent Figure Of A Man

By M. C. Garrott

Sitting just in front of the speaker's lectern at the Wells Hall rededication ceremonies a couple weeks ago at Murray State was a man who had known Rainey T. Wells longer than anyone in the room. He was my friend and the young fellow about whom I have written so often, Quint Guier.

Mr. Guier, who will be 96 years of age December 22, first heard of Dr. Wells in 1896. He was living in Trigg County at the time and walking three miles to and from school every day.

His mother's oldest sister lived out near Kirksey, and she had been urging the Guier family, which included seven children, to move to Calloway County and her neighborhood so the children would only have a quarter-mile to walk to school.

The teacher there, "a fine young man by the name of Rainey T. Wells," also was planning to start a junior college in Kirksey, she said. In those days it was important to "live as close to the schoolhouse as possible if you wanted to attend regularly and get an education."

The Guiers moved to Calloway County, and seven years later, in 1903, Mr. Guier personally met Dr. Wells for the first time. The Saturday after Thanksgiving, the teachers association was holding a meeting at the Watson school, which Mr. Guier had attended, and now a young man of 21, he wanted to see what it was all about.

He listened as Dr. Wells recalled how he had walked to school and carried his lunch in a bucket in order to get an education. "As I listened, I thought to myself, 'Now, I have also walked to school and carried my lunch in a bucket. What's to keep me from getting an education like he did?' Dr.

Wells was the one man who inspired me to go to college and to get all the schooling I could."

So impressed was he with the future founder of Murray State, that he and four of his Watson school classmates — Jeff Jones, Bert Smith, Dollie Smith and Fannie Dawson — entered Dr. Wells' Calloway County Normal School there in Kirksey the following Jan. 4.

Mr. Guier went to school there for 16 months learning to become a country school teacher, which was really something in those days. He later taught in schools in Calloway, Graves, Marshall and Henderson Counties. In 1910, he went off to college at Valparaiso, Ind., hoping to become a doctor of medicine.

When his money ran out after three years at Valparaiso, he came home to Calloway County to earn more so he could continue his studies, took a job as a cashier in the Kirksey bank and was called for military service just as World War I ended.

After a two-year engagement, he and Lola Brazzell were married in 1920, and two-and-a-half years later her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brazzell, died within nine days of each other. Their farm home place was left to Mrs. Guier, and when they failed to find a buyer for it, he gave up his medical aspirations and settled down to a farmer's life.

It had been 10 years since Mr. Guier had seen Dr. Wells when in 1930, he and Lee Lawrence came to Murray to invite the new and second president of Murray State Normal School to be the principal speaker the opening day of the new Brewers school.

The people of the Brewers community had provided half the labor for it. The Marshall County board of education had paid the rest of its $30,000 total cost.

Mr. Guier was selected to introduce the Murray president at the opening day ceremonies, and he recalled for those present that Dr. Wells had told those at the Watson school teachers association meeting 25 years earlier. Word for word, he repeated it.

"Formulate in your minds what you would like life to be for you when you are 50 years old, then work hard to make it come true. And it will come true," he quoted Dr. Wells as saying. "If you have only one leg to walk on, make that leg carry you to school somewhere."

When Dr. Wells rose to speak that September day in 1928, he turned to Mr. Guier and quipped, "Quint, you've spoiled my speech." He then proceeded to deliver, without any notes, another of the orations for which he is so well remembered.

"Dr. Wells had a fine, magnetic personality," Mr. Guier recalls. "He had great poise and everything he did was with great dignity. He had all the characteristics and qualities necessary to make a man a hero in the eyes of all who knew him."

Mr. Guier, who is keenly alert, walks one or two miles every day and spends his spare time carefully writing about and cataloging his life, calls William Jennings Bryant the greatest orator he ever heard and recalls hearing him deliver his famous "Cross and Crown" oration in 1909.

"He was a big man," he said, "six feet two inches tall and weighing 225 pounds. He had the most resonant baritone voice I ever heard and everyone in that crowd of 5,000 at Valparaiso easily heard him. That was long before any public address systems, you know. He was a most magnificent figure of a man, just as was Rainey T. Wells."

Entrepreneurship Alive And Well

NEW YORK (AP) — The spirit of entrepreneurship is alive, well and improving, and that means a good many of the problems that create despair today might be tomorrow's bright solutions, says Bill McCrea.

"There's gloom over the energy shortage and inflation, but there's a whole other group that sees these as their challenges," said McCrea, who founded and runs the non-profit Entrepreneurship Institute.

Traveling the country on his mission, which is to find, educate and inspire innovative thinkers into doing something about their ideas, McCrea is encouraged by what he sees:

— A growing confidence among Americans that they can "do it" on their own, that they can gain control over their destinies by founding and operating their own companies.

— Colleges providing "a window" into the world of entrepreneurship through at least 250 courses offered throughout the country, compared with almost none just a little more than a decade ago.

— An increasing number of role models for those who want to make the move, made available by the media's own fascination with people who have demonstrated that individuality is not dead.

— The development of sounder ventures, a consequence of the need to

The poison for the County Wide Rat Extermination Program has arrived and residents may obtain the poison at the Calloway County Extension Office, according to local officials.

The Murray State Thoroughbreds won their first basketball game of the season over Kentucky Wesleyan 56 to 49. The game was played at the Carr Health Building, Murray State, and was the first game by the Racers under their new coach, Harlan Hodges. Murray players were Snow, Herrold, Alexander, Frank, DeWeese, Stephenson, McKee, Loughary, Cavender, and Purcell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Webb of Murray announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Annette, to Glenn E. Hogancamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hogancamp of Bardwell.

Births reported include a boy to Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Ramsey on Nov. 25, and a girl to Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Jones on Nov. 20.

Showing at the Varsity Theatre is "Walk A Crooked Mile" starring Louis Hayward and Dennis O'Keefe.

Carter Budget Plan May Lead To House Subsidy Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's spending experts are recommending 1980 budget cuts and changes that could reduce federally subsidized housing by about one-third, sources report.

If Carter decides to go along with the cuts in the Department of Housing and Urban Development budget, the number of subsidized housing units could decline from the current level of about 330,000 to about 225,000 in the fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1, the sources said.

Cutting subsidized housing to 225,000 units, a level lower than Republican presidents Gerald R. Ford and Richard M. Nixon produced in all but one of their eight years, already has set off protests from urban, black and housing industry groups. Citing such complaints, HUD is appealing to short-circuit the cuts and boost the number to about 300,000 units.

The housing cut is based on a recommendation by the Office of Management and Budget that HUD's budget authority for housing be reduced from about $26.3 billion in fiscal 1979 to about $22.5 billion in 1980.

But in a new wrinkle in their annual battle over subsidized housing dollars, the budget office rejects HUD's 225,000 unit figure. The budget agency argues that by using lower per unit cost estimates and switching more money to cheaper subsidies, HUD could actually increase the level slightly above this year's 330,000 at the same time its funding declines.

Because the department's budget appeal is set for later this week and because Carter's final decisions still are almost two weeks away, the six government sources who discussed the dispute declined to be identified. OMB, White House and HUD officials refused to confirm or deny the reports.

Carter has mandated sharp domestic spending cuts for his 1980 budget in a drive to combat inflation. He is committed to reducing the federal deficit from about $40 billion in 1979 to $30 billion in the next fiscal year while at the same time increasing defense spending.

For that reason there already have been reports that OMB is recommending sharp cuts in job, transportation, health and environment programs.

Ironically, because of the way subsidized housing is recorded on the federal budget, the current battle has no impact on the 1980 deficit. The budget office and HUD are arguing over dollars that will not actually be spent for three years, but OMB is reluctant to commit the government to spending which might increase the deficit then.

Freeman Says TVA To Change Agency Tasks

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Tennessee Valley Authority says its dam-building drive is ending and, in its place, the agency will renew its original task of restoring the land for farms and farmers.

"Today it is not the snail darter but prime farmland which I think is our most important endangered species," chairman S. David Freeman said Monday. Freeman told the convention of the Tennessee Association of Conservation Districts that TVA has taken over 10 percent of the valley's best farmland for steam-electric plants and reservoir projects.

"This is the price we have paid for electric power, navigation, flood control and other purposes," he said.

"TVA isn't just another utility. Energy production and distribution have overshadowed TVA's original task of building the land for the farm and its farmers...It's our job to rekindle the emphasis on the land and the people which are this nation's most precious resources."

Freeman said TVA is joining a number of agencies — U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, the Environmental Protection Agency, University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service, local conservation districts and the state Agriculture Department — in an attack on soil erosion in West Tennessee.

Soil erosion sends 40 to 100 tons of sediment per acre from West Tennessee cropland into streams and rivers. The national average, Freeman said, is three or four tons per acre. A TVA agriculture expert said the sandy clay texture of West Tennessee soil makes it particularly erosive, especially when pasture lands are replaced by row crops such as soybeans.

"It's almost as though TVA had quit when it got west of Nashville," Freeman said. "It is difficult to believe that the problem of erosion here is about as serious as it was when TVA was created in 1933."

He said the agency will involve rural people in a planning process to preserve the farmlands, natural beauty and quality of life in rural areas.

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Ray Venable, a captain in the Harlan County Rescue Squad, has been elected president of the Kentucky Association of Rescue Squads.

The election took place at Somerset during the weekend.

Murray Preschool Groups Make Visits, Local Farms

Murray Preschool Corporation 3 and 4 year old's have been learning about seasons, holidays and their community. Three field trips have been taken; one to Mr. Henson's pumpkin patch; to the Reed Farm and to the Murray State University stadium. The children picked a pumpkin, took it to their school, made a jack-o-lantern, then cooked the pumpkin. On their visit to the farm the children climbed on a tractor; saw a sow and her pigs, a dog and her puppies and a horse. A policeman, fireman and nurse will visit the school and the children will learn how they affect our community. There is an opening in the four year old group. Anyone interested in the program may call Molly Booth 753-4057 or Diana Rabatin 759-1371.

Red Cross Volunteers, Hospital Work Together

The theme of the annual Red Cross volunteers banquet held last night at the new hospital cafeteria was "Community's Best Bargain-Because of You." Jean Blankenship, the Red Cross executive director, praised the 36 honored volunteer workers and pointed out how the volunteers and the hospital work hand in hand to help the entire community.

At a time when volunteers are backing away from many projects, it is a credit to our community to see people helping people and groups working together.

The Red Cross Volunteers worked a total of 4,359½ hours on a gratis basis. The group of 36, if paid at a going wage, would have received at least $15,356.25. Add to this the Red Cross Water Safety program at $23,800; First Aid Program for $4,350; Veteran benefits with assistance to those needing them in applications, etc., $43,450.00; Social Services, $13,800; the youth council, nursing services-volunteered and disaster preparedness. That total sum would be $102,746.25. This comes free to our citizens. The Red Cross drive led by Stuart Poston, hospital administrator and host at the meeting, raised $9,245.00 in donations from the community. We received the $102,746.25 for less than $10,000 donated locally. That is a credit to all who give funds and time and remember this when the next Red Cross Drive begins.

Examples of the dedication included Della Taylor, who has been a volunteer for 18 years, and Art Lynch, who has given 532½ hours already in volunteer time this year. The 36 have all been willing to serve and deserve to be praised. Their names and picture appear in a story of the banquet today.

It gave pride to everyone attending to eat in the new hospital cafeteria and to have such an elegant meal served by Mrs. Ann Flood, the dietitian and her co-workers.

We can point with pride to our hospital, its 535 employees, the leadership of the hospital board and all others responsible for such progress in the community.

The Murray-Calloway County Hospital, with its able administrator, its employees, its board and many volunteers make it a prime accomplishment for this community. The Red Cross banquet was but one more example of people working together to help others and that is what Calloway Countians have done in the past and will do in the future.

Capitol Ideas

Office Space Time Arrives In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the season the most senior and powerful members of Congress assert their clout and make the first important decisions of the Congress that will formally enter the Capitol in January.

This is the season office space is allotted.

Great judgments must be made. Is a beautiful view of the Capitol more important than easy access to the House or Senate floor? Is the ambience of the high ceilings in the Russell Senate Office Building worth more than a few extra square feet of floor space in the newer, lower-ceilinged Dirksen Senate Office Building?

The nature of the system and Mother Nature herself usually decide the question of access to the floor. By the time a member of Congress has enough seniority to rate one of the desirable offices with easy floor access, he is old enough to value a reduction in the distance he has to walk.

And so the first office taken in the current scramble was the big corner suite in the Rayburn House Office Building that had been occupied by Rep. George Mahon, D-Texas, since 1964, when the building opened.

Mahon, the senior member of the 95th Congress, did not run for re-election. Not that his colleagues do not miss George. Of course, technically members of the old Congress still are in place until January. But there have been a lot of members with longing looks on their faces as they pass Suite 2314.

But their dreams soon turned to dust. Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., who replaces Mahon as the senior member of the House, also exercised his seniority to take over the Texan's office.

Not that Whitten was getting by in a cramped basement hovel. He had one of the nice, spacious corner offices in the Rayburn Building, but is making the switch because Mahon's suite is closer to the subway to the Capitol and the House floor.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is giving up his high-ceilinged suite in the Russell Building and taking over the corner offices formerly occupied in the Dirksen Building by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The Eastland suite is a few steps down the hall from the offices of the Senate Judiciary Committee. With Eastland's retirement, Kennedy will become chairman of the committee.

Lobbyists for environmental groups generally rate Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, as one of the bad guys in Congress. Garn shrugs off their slings and arrows and tells the story of how one environmental lobbying group issued its ratings of members of Congress and found he had voted correctly, in their view, 11 percent of the time on environmental issues.

"They added a footnote saying I obviously hadn't understood the issue when I voted with them," Garn said.

Bible Thought

And he said unto them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. — Luke 9:23.

To deny self is to become unselfish in our love toward others. The "cross" is the sacrifice we take upon ourselves in behalf of our fellowmen. So shall we follow the Christ who gave Himself for us.

Rainey T. Wells Is Remembered As Magnificent Figure Of A Man

Sitting just in front of the speaker's lectern at the Wells Hall rededication ceremonies a couple weeks ago at Murray State was a man who had known Rainey T. Wells longer than anyone in the room. He was my friend and the young fellow about whom I have written so often, Quint Guier.

Mr. Guier, who will be 96 years of age December 22, first heard of Dr. Wells in 1896. He was living in Trigg County at the time and walking three miles to and from school every day.

His mother's oldest sister lived out near Kirksey, and she had been urging the Guier family, which included seven children, to move to Calloway County and her neighborhood so the children would only have a quarter-mile to walk to school.

The teacher there, "a fine young man by the name of Rainey T. Wells," also was planning to start a junior college in Kirksey, she said. In those days it was important to live as close to the schoolhouse as possible if you wanted to attend regularly and get an education.

The Guiers moved to Calloway County, and seven years later, in 1903, Mr. Guier personally met Dr. Wells for the first time. The Saturday after Thanksgiving, the teachers association was holding a meeting at the Watson school, which Mr. Guier had attended, and now a young man of 21, he wanted to see what it was all about.

He listened as Dr. Wells recalled how he had walked to school and carried his lunch in a bucket in order to get an education. "As I listened, I thought to myself, 'Now, I have also walked to school and carried my lunch in a bucket. What's to keep me from getting an education like he did?' Dr.

Wells was the one man who inspired me to go to college and to get all the schooling I could."

So impressed was he with the future founder of Murray State, that he and four of his Watson school classmates — Jeff Jones, Bert Smith, Dollie Smith and Fannie Dawson — entered Dr. Wells' Calloway County Normal School there in Kirksey the following Jan. 4.

Mr. Guier went to school there for 16 months learning to become a country school teacher, which was really something in those days. He later taught in schools in Calloway, Graves, Marshall and Henderson Counties. In 1910, he went off to college at Valparaiso, Ind., hoping to become a doctor of medicine.

When his money ran out after three years at Valparaiso, he came home to Calloway County to earn more so he could continue his studies, took a job as a cashier in the Kirksey bank and was called for military service just as World War I ended.

After a two-year engagement, he and Lola Brazzell were married in 1920, and two-and-a-half years later her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brazzell, died within nine days of each other. Their farm home place was left to Mrs. Guier, and when they failed to find a buyer for it, he gave up his medical aspirations and settled down to a farmer's life.

It had been 10 years since Mr. Guier had seen Dr. Wells when in 1928, he and Lee Lawrence came to Murray to invite the new and second president of Murray State Normal School to be the principal speaker the opening day of the new Brewers school. The people of the Brewers community had provided half the labor for it. The Marshall County board of education had paid the rest of its $30,000 total cost.

Mr. Guier was selected to introduce the Murray president at the opening day ceremonies, and he recalled for those present that Dr. Wells had told those at the Watson school teachers association meeting 25 years earlier. Word for word, he repeated it.

"Formulate in your minds what you would like life to be for you when you are 60 years old, then work hard to make it come true. And it will come true," he quoted Dr. Wells as saying. "If you have only one leg to walk on, make that leg carry you to school somewhere."

When Dr. Wells rose to speak that September day in 1928, he turned to Mr. Guier and quipped, "Quint, you've spoiled my speech." He then proceeded to deliver, without any notes, another of the orations for which he is so well remembered.

"Dr. Wells had a fine, magnetic personality," Mr. Guier recalls. "He had great poise and everything he did was with great dignity. He had all the characteristics and qualities necessary to make a man a hero in the eyes of all who knew him."

Mr. Guier, who is keenly alert, walks one or two miles every day and spends his spare time carefully writing about and cataloging his life, calls William Jennings Bryant the greatest orator he ever heard and recalls hearing him deliver his famous "Cross and Crown" oration in 1909.

"He was a big man," he said, "six feet two inches tall and weighing 225 pounds. He had the most resonant baritone voice I ever heard and everyone in that crowd of 5,000 at Valparaiso easily heard him. That was long before any public address systems, you know. He was a most magnificent figure of a man, just as was Rainey T. Wells."

Entrepreneurship Alive And Well

NEW YORK (AP) — The spirit of entrepreneurship is alive, well and improving, and that means a good many of the problems that create despair today might be tomorrow's bright solutions, says Bill McCrea.

"There's gloom over the energy shortage and inflation, but there's a whole other group that sees these as their challenges," said McCrea, who founded and runs the non-profit Entrepreneurship Institute.

Traveling the country on his mission, which is to find, educate and inspire innovative thinkers into doing something about their ideas, McCrea is encouraged by what he sees.

A growing confidence among Americans that they can "do it" on their own, that they can gain control over their destinies by founding and operating their own companies.

Colleges providing "a window" into the world of entrepreneurship through at least 250 courses offered throughout the country, compared with almost none just a little more than a decade ago.

Freeman told the convention of the Tennessee Association of Conservation Districts that TVA has taken over 10 percent of the valley's best farmland for steam-electric plants and reservoir projects.

"This is the price we have paid for electric power, navigation, flood control and other purposes," he said.

"TVA isn't just another utility. Energy production and distribution have overshadowed TVA's original task of building the land for the farm and its farmers....It's our job to rekindle the emphasis on the land and the people which are this nation's most precious resources."

Freeman said TVA is joining a number of agencies — U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, the Environmental Protection Agency, University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service, local conservation districts and the state Agriculture Department — in an attack on soil erosion in West Tennessee.

Soil erosion sends 40 to 100 tons of sediment per acre from West Tennessee cropland into streams and rivers. The national average, Freeman said, is three or four tons per acre. A TVA agriculture expert said the sandy clay texture of West Tennessee soil makes it particularly erosive, especially when pasture lands are replaced by row crops such as soybeans.

"It's almost as though TVA had quit when it got west of Nashville," Freeman said. "It is difficult to believe that the problem of erosion here is about as serious as it was when TVA was created in 1933."

He said the agency will involve rural people in a planning process to preserve the farmlands, natural beauty and quality of life in rural areas.

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Ray Venable, a captain in the Harlan County Rescue Squad, has been elected president of the Kentucky Association of Rescue Squads.

The election took place at Somerset during the weekend.

Murray Preschool Groups Make Visits, Local Farms

Murray Preschool Corporation 3 and 4 year olds have been learning about seasons, holidays and their community. Three field trips have been taken; one to Mr. Henson's pumpkin patch; to the Reed Farm and to the Murray State University stadium. The children picked a pumpkin, took it to their school, made a jack-o-lantern, then cooked the pumpkin. On their visit to the farm the children climbed on a tractor; saw a sow and her pigs, a dog and her puppies and a horse. A policeman, fireman and nurse will visit the school and the children will learn how they affect our community.

There is an opening in the four year old group. Anyone interested in the program may call Molly Booth 753-4057 or Diana Rabatin 759-1371.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

This must be written in a hurry because it is about the transmission of sound in a house — and engineers in the sound-absorption field are continually conducting tests and making one discovery after another.

Therefore, no matter what you read here and anywhere else, if you plan to have a house built and are concerned about the passage of sound, investigate the latest systems for its control right up to the moment construction starts.

While methods for handling sound are changing, one fact has remained firm throughout the years. It is easier to control the noise inside a house or within a room than it is to keep it out. That's partly because there are many outside noises about which you can do nothing and which, fortunately, are not always persistent. Mostly, though, it's because inside sounds come from you, your family and the things around you and will yield to proper treatment.

Sound waves become what we consider noise when they bounce off walls, ceilings and anything that is non-absorbent. (That's why your voice sounds so powerful in a shower stall.) When the waves strike soft, non-absorbent materials, some of the sounds are muffled. In a room with many of these materials — such as drapes, carpets and upholstered furniture — the sounds are not distracting or annoying. The quieting effects are even more noticeable when there are certain types of sound-absorbent ceilings and walls.

If there are noises in a room above, the acoustical tiles on your ceilings will keep out some of them. But those noises will be more effectively muted if the room upstairs has a thick carpet on the floor. From 15 to 30 percent of the sound will be absorbed and not heard downstairs, depending on the newness, thickness and makeup of the carpeting. If there are other sound-absorbing items in the same room, the sound reverberations will be kept to a minimum.

As for outside noises, you can do something about them, but only to a degree. Air-conditioned houses are easier to keep quiet because the windows are always closed. Double-glass windows, thick rows of shrubs and trees also are effective in keeping out noise.

Thinking about building a house? Consider spending something extra to install walls especially built to absorb sound. There are many ways to do this; so ask your architect or builder to tell you about them, being sure his knowledge is up-to-date. One method calls for filling the cavities between studs with insulation. Another, more effective, is to have the walls built with staggered sets of studs so that wall surfaces are not in direct contact with each other. There also are special materials for use between walls and as walls when sound absorption is important.

(Thirty-five house problems are discussed in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," which can be obtained by sending $1.50 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

The Dominican friar Galfridus Grammaticus (Geoffrey the Grammarian) completed his "Promptorium Parvulorum," ("Storehouse for the Little Ones,") around 1440. In this manuscript, English words appeared only as an aid for the study of Latin.

Q. — I am getting old and have to admit that I don't make changes very easily. I have always maintained that painting with a roller is never as good as painting with a brush, but after seeing a job with a roller recently I have decided to use one when I paint my living room in a few weeks. Is there anything particular I should know about using a roller that will help me get a good result?

A. — If you haven't bought a roller yet, tell the hardware dealer what you plan to use it for and he will select the proper type of cover. As for using the roller, follow certain fundamentals and you are certain to like the finished job. When loading the roller in the paint tray, remove the excess by rolling it over the higher and drier surface of the tray. Roll back and forth with only the lightest pressure, moving slowly and letting the roller do the work. Use an edging roller or trim brush to paint the edges of the walls and ceiling before using the full roller. Move from a dry area into a wet one, blending the laps slightly. On a wall, roll upward with even strokes at first; you can vary the direction after that, but make the first strokes upward. And don't spin the roller at the end of a stroke or you'll get sprayed.

Q. — I have to remove some resilient floor tiles. I know this can be done by heating the tiles or by chipping them out after applying dry ice to them. Frankly, I am a bit afraid to try either method, because I know extra care must be exercised. Is there any other way these tiles can be lifted from the floor?

A. — Yes, but it requires a lot of elbow grease. Buy or rent a tile scraper, which consists of a blade on a long handle, a kind of giant putty knife. Insert the scraper blade between the seams of two adjoining tiles and force it downward and slightly sideways until one of the tiles is loosened a bit. From then on it's a case of scraping off the tiles and cement as you might scrape peeling paint from the side of a house. It's not a good idea to use this method in the unlikely possibility the tiles are cemented to a wood subfloor.

Q. — What kind of cement must be used to install asphalt tiles on a smooth concrete floor? I have some cement left over from a vinyl tile floor I put down a couple of years ago. Can that be used?

A. — Not likely. Asphalt tiles generally require a tar-like adhesive that differs from the cement used for vinyl tiles. The store where you purchase the tiles will give you the proper adhesive, but be sure to state that the installation is on concrete.

Makers Offers Wide Furniture Range

By ELAINE Q. BARROW
AP Newsfeatures

Has consumerism gained a stronger voice in home furnishings?

More than ever before, manufacturers seem to be reaching to accommodate a wider spectrum of personal tastes. At the recent Southern Furniture Market in High Point N.C., the trend could be defined as something for everyone.

Living room and bedroom furniture encompass a choice from 18th Century and Victorian to Traditional and Contemporary.

One exhibitor presented a blending of historical design with the best of today to avoid "faddish" styles and to provide furniture to weather a wide range of taste fluctuations. Darrell Ferguson, vice president and general manager of Drexel Heritage, says "Classic styling adapted to modern-day needs for smaller scaling and multi-functionality almost assures timeless quality for home furnishing."

An example is a go-with-any style cocktail table which duplicates the lines of an 18th Century court piece with a beveled glass top and detailed walnut base. Another highlight was an unabashed copy of a Louis XV arm chair.

The firm's upholstery fabrics, however, drew a less rigid distinction between traditional and contemporary patterns. Dramatic contrasts are achieved with creams, corals, grayed greens and gold — with red considered the dominant color. Emphasis on upholstery fabrics was noted by still another firm. Counting on colors, patterns and textures to set the "mood" in a room, the selection ranges in color from shrimp and celadon green to pewter and electric blue, in florals, stripes and small-patterned French prints. Textures include smooth silks, nubby weaves and leather.

Newest is the suede leather. "Suede leather is a natural for furniture styling, just as it has been for fashion apparel," says Jack Krayer, president of Montgomery. "It is sophisticated and elegant, yet it also can be casual. And it is extremely durable."

But, he added, "The intrinsic shape of an upholstered piece will always be the most important part of a buying decision."

So far it would be only speculative to judge how many buying decisions also will be affected by the increasing number of big name designers — such as Angelo Donghia, John Mascheroni and Ristomatti Ratti — moving into the retail market.

At the same time, many manufacturers are relying on the identity of their brand names and adding items to appeal to space economy and other conveniences.

Creating a "total environment" bedroom was the concern of Richard A. Singer, president of Narnaco, who says,

"People spend at least one-third of their lives in their bedroom, yet there's been very little personalized decorating."

INGREDIENTS FOR INVESTMENT

Housing prices have gone up steeply since the mid-60's for two basic reasons. First, the shortage of new savings made it difficult to finance private housing, and the number of new housing units built each year was far below that what it should have been. Since there is a steady growth in population, this puts pressure on our housing reserves and prices rise.

Second, there have been inflationary increases in the labor and materials costs that go into building a house. In most urban areas, land values continue to go up each year, too. Historically, real estate values have always increased faster than the cost of living. Thus, it is an excellent inflation hedge.

So here are the ready-made ingredients for a good investment. We all need housing of some kind, and according to the experts, the price of housing will continue to go even higher, though perhaps, not as dramatically as in the past few years.

Murray State Looking For First Win Against Choctaws Tonight

By TONY WILSON
Sports Editor

Mississippi College — a school of 3,500 students located in Clinton, Miss., and a member of the Gulf South Conference. Anything sound impressive so far?

If not, try a 22-7 1977-78 record that earned it a GSC title and a berth in the Division II national tournament. Coach Doug Hines brings those credentials into the Sports Arena tonight for a 7-30 p.m. clash with Murray State.

The Choctaws were undefeated heading into last night's game with Western Kentucky in Bowling Green. The Hilltoppers were picked as the second-best team in the Ohio Valley Conference in a preseason coaches' poll, but they barely squeezed out a 56-53 decision.

All of which seems to make the Racers and coach Ron Greene's search for their first victory anything but a cinch. Murray State, 0-2, was surprised by Tennessee Wesleyan 81-70, then dropped an 81-66 decision to fourth-ranked Kansas Saturday.

Mississippi College and Racers teams have played 12 times in the past, and Murray has won 11 of them. The Choctaws lone victory was a 70-62 triumph last season.

The Choctaws' four victories have come at the expense of Mississippi College (Miss.), 79-68; Bell Haven (Miss.), 71-55; Christian Southern College (Memphis), 69-67; and Livingston University, 51-50, a fellow GSC member. The latter two wins earned Mississippi College the title in its invitational tournament last weekend.

6-5 junior Hilton Harrell has been the big gun for the Choctaws thus far. He owned a 17-point average heading into last night, but upped it with a 22-point performance that led all scorers.

Western Kentucky jumped to an 8-0 lead, but Mississippi College outscored the Hilltoppers 18-0 over the next ten minutes and took a 21-14 halftime lead.

Western finally tied the game at 51-51 at the 1:34 mark and took the lead for good with 38 seconds left. Senior guard Greg Jackson led the 'Topper scoring with 18 points.

Felder, the only returning starter from last year, averages 16.5 points a game, Hurst, 12.3; Evans, 8.0; and Mackey, 10.0.

Last year's team was the best in Mississippi College modern history. It finished 13-3 in league play, including a victory at Livingston late in the season to sew up the title, and advanced to the NCAA Division II South Central Regionals before losing.

Tonight's game will mark the first of six games over a 12-day period for the Racers. They face New Orleans Thursday, Samford Saturday, then return for four straight home games.

Probable starters, their position and averages for Murray include Roy Taylor, guard, 17.0; Tom Adams, guard, 4.0; John Randall, forward, 14.0 and Keith Oglesby, center, 8.5. The other forward spot will be filled by either Alan Mann (7.5) or Herman Boyd (0.0).

Wildcats Romp In Record Fashion

By the Associated Press

Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall knows his team isn't the greatest, at least not yet.

"What is exciting to me as a coach is that there is so much room for improvement," said Hall, after watching his defending national champions demolish West Texas State 121-67 Monday night.

"I enjoyed the game as much as the spectators," he added. "We still showed selfishness at times and we need more poise, but I can't ask for more hustle. We won on guts and determination."

Those qualities are admirable, but they don't necessarily make for a title contender. Kentucky, after losing players like Jack Givens, Rick Robey, Mike Phillips and James Lee from last year's NCAA winner, is ranked only 10th in the latest AP college basketball poll.

Hall knows that with a game against Kansas on Saturday and subsequent games against Indiana, Texas A&M and Notre Dame, his club will have ample opportunity to prove itself.

LaVon Williams and Dwight Anderson scored 17 points apiece and Fred Cowan added 16 as Kentucky recorded the largest point total in the three-year history of Rupp Arena.

In other games involving nationally ranked teams, No. 3 Notre Dame overpowered Rice 105-61, No. 5 Kansas beat Boise State 82-68, No. 12 LSU defeated intrastate rival Tulane 109-85, No. 14 North Carolina topped Detroit 93-76 and No. 15 Nevada-Las Vegas trimmed No. 19 Maryland 94-88.

Notre Dame shot 63 percent from the field in routing Rice, with Bruce Flowers leading the way with 17 points. The Irish, who enjoyed a 46-24 rebounding edge, scored the final four points of the first half and the first 15 of the second to break the game open at 65-36.

Guard Darnell Valentine scored 18 of his 20 points in the second half as Kansas turned back Boise State. The Wildcats led 48-38 at halftime and built the margin as high as 21 in the second half.

Sophomore DeWayne Scales scored a career-high 31 points and grabbed 14 rebounds and Al Green added 26 points as LSU topped Tulane by scoring a school-record 70 points in the second half. The Tigers, 4-0, shot 63 percent from the field.

Mike O'Koren scored 26 points to help North Carolina defeat Detroit. The Tar Heels' press caused five steals that helped North Carolina build a 27-15 lead in the first half.

Nevada-Las Vegas, utilizing a full-court press for about half the game, came up with 15 steals and forced the Terps into 30 turnovers in the night's only battle of nationally ranked teams.

Elsewhere, Cedric Hodges scored 26 points and Jim Graziano added 21 to lead South Carolina to an 85-71 victory over Harvard; Joe Barry Carroll had 19 points to lead five Purdue players in double figures as the Boilermakers rolled over Northern Colorado 91-57; and Al Daniel scored 30 points to lead Furman over North Carolina-Charlotte 91-73.

Tony Wells, who played high school basketball at Calloway County, hopes to help Hawaii's Rainbows improve upon their 1-26 1977-78 season.

Hawaii Eight-0

Former Laker Wells A Rainbow Now

University of Hawaii Sports Information Office HONOLULU, HAWAII — What's 80 inches long and unlocks doors?

Well, if you're University of Hawaii coach Larry Little, the answer to that one is easy — Tony (James) Wells.

"Tony is the key to the Rainbow season," said Little of the 6-8 center, last year's leading scorer and rebounder.

Wells finished last season with a solid 14.8 scoring average and 7.3 rebounding average, marks that could be surpassed this year thanks to nine returning lettermen and six talented newcomers.

A transfer from the University of Dayton, where he started center during his freshman and sophomore years, Wells spoke optimistically about this year's team.

"We've had more intensity this past week in practice. The guys are showing a lot of enthusiasm and there's more competition," said Wells. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wells of Murray, Wells played basketball for Calloway County High School from 1970-74.

He looks forward to the tough schedule this year because he is a competitor. "I wouldn't mind it if the schedule were rougher still," said the articulate Wells, who is majoring in elementary education.

Indeed, Hawaii faces another rugged season with the likes of such highly-rated teams as Brigham Young, New Mexico State, Illinois State and Nevada-Las Vegas. UNLV was ranked in the top 20 in a pre-season UPI poll.

Also coming up for the Rainbows is the Rainbow Classic Dec. 27-30, featuring traditional basketball powers Arizona State and Tennessee.

"I'll have a chance to prove myself against some very good players," said the 22-year-old Wells.

The Rainbows will open their 1978 season on the road in Provo, Utah, Nov. 24, when they face Brigham Young's Cougars, favorites to take the Western Athletic Conference.

Hawaii makes its first home stand Dec. 8 against the University of Portland. It seeks to improve upon a 1-26 '77-'78 mark.

This must be written in a hurry because it is about the transmission of sound in a house — and engineers in the sound-absorption field are continually conducting tests and making one discovery after another.

Therefore, no matter what you read here and anywhere else, if you plan to have a house built and are concerned about the passage of sound, investigate the latest systems for its control right up to the moment construction starts.

While methods for handling sound are changing, one fact has remained firm throughout the years. It is easier to control the noise inside a house or within a room than it is to keep it out. That's partly because there are many outside noises about which you can do nothing and which, fortunately, are not always persistent. Mostly, though, it's because inside sounds come from you, your family and the things around you and will yield to proper treatment.

Sound waves become what we consider noise when they bounce off walls, ceilings and anything that is non-absorbent. (That's why your voice sounds so powerful in a shower stall.) When the waves strike soft, non-absorbent materials, some of the sounds are muffled. In a room with many of these materials — such as drapes, carpets and upholstered furniture — the sounds are not distracting or annoying. The quieting effects are even more noticeable when there are certain types of sound-absorbent ceilings and walls.

If there are noises in a room above, the acoustical tiles on your ceilings will keep out some of them. But those noises will be more effectively muted if the room upstairs has a thick carpet on the floor. From 15 to 30 percent of the sound will be absorbed and not heard downstairs, depending on the newness, thickness and makeup of the carpeting. If there are other sound-absorbing items in the same room, the sound reverberations will be kept to a minimum.

As for outside noises, you can do something about them, but only to a degree. Air-conditioned houses are easier to keep quiet because the windows are always closed. Double-glass windows, thick rows of shrubs and trees also are effective in keeping out noise.

Thinking about building a house? Consider spending something extra to install walls especially built to absorb sound. There are many ways to do this, so ask your architect or builder to tell you about them, being sure his knowledge is up-to-date. One method calls for filling the cavities between studs with insulation. Another, more effective, is to have the walls built with staggered sets of studs so that wall surfaces are not in direct contact with each other. There also are special materials for use between walls and as walls when sound absorption is important.

(Thirty-five house problems are discussed in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," which can be obtained by sending $1.50 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

The Dominican friar Galfridus Grammaticus (Geoffrey the Grammarian) completed his "Promptorium Parvulorum," ("Storehouse for the Little Ones,") around 1440. In this manuscript, English words appeared only as an aid for the study of Latin.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THIS THREE-BEDROOM home is designed for a large family with a small budget. Corner rooms have cross-ventilation, and a screen porch doubles as an outdoor dining room as well as an extension of the living room of this 1,140-square-foot house. For more information on Plan HA1067R, write—enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope—to architect Jan Reiner, 1000 52nd St. North, St. Petersburg, Fla., 33710.

Q. — I am getting old and have to admit that I don't make changes very easily. I have always maintained that painting with a roller is never as good as painting with a brush, but after seeing a job with a roller recently I have decided to use one when I paint my living room in a few weeks. Is there anything particular I should know about using a roller that will help me get a good result?

A. — If you haven't bought a roller yet, tell the hardware dealer what you plan to use it for and he will select the proper type of cover. As for using the roller, follow certain fundamentals and you are certain to like the finished job. When loading the roller in the paint tray, remove the excess by rolling it over the higher and drier surface of the tray. Roll back and forth with only the lightest pressure, moving slowly and letting the roller do the work. Use an edging roller or trim brush to paint the edges of the walls and ceiling before using the full roller. Move from a dry area into a wet one, blending the laps slightly. On a wall, roll upward with even strokes at first; you can vary the direction after that, but make the first strokes upward. And don't spin the roller at the end of a stroke or you'll get sprayed.

Q. — I have to remove some resilient floor tiles. I know this can be done by heating the tiles or by chipping them out after applying dry ice to them. Frankly, I am a bit afraid to try either method, because I know extra care must be exercised. Is there any other way these tiles can be lifted from the floor?

A. — Yes, but it requires a lot of elbow grease. Buy or rent a tile scraper, which consists of a blade on a long handle, a kind of giant putty knife. Insert the scraper blade between the seams of two adjoining tiles and force it downward and slightly sideways until one of the tiles is loosened a bit. From then on it's a case of scraping off the tiles and cement as you might scrape peeling paint from the side of a house. It's not a good idea to use this method in the unlikely possibility the tiles are cemented to a wood subfloor.

Q. — What kind of cement must be used to install asphalt tiles on a smooth concrete floor? I have some cement left over from a vinyl tile floor I put down a couple of years ago. Can that be used?

A. — Not likely. Asphalt tiles generally require a tar-like adhesive that differs from the cement used for vinyl tiles. The store where you purchase the tiles will give you the proper adhesive, but be sure to state that the installation is on concrete.

Makers Offers Wide Furniture Range

By ELAINE Q. BARROW
AP Newsfeatures

Has consumerism gained a stronger voice in home furnishings?

More than ever before, manufacturers seem to be reaching to accommodate a wider spectrum of personal tastes.

At the recent Southern Furniture Market in High Point, N.C., the trend could be defined as something for everyone.

Living room and bedroom furniture encompass a choice from 18th Century and Victorian to Traditional and Contemporary.

One exhibitor presented a blending of historical design with the best of today to avoid "faddish" styles and to provide furniture to weather a wide range of taste fluctuations.

Darrell Ferguson, vice president and general manager of Drexel Heritage, says "Classic styling adapted to modern-day needs for smaller scaling and multi-functionality almost assures timeless quality for home furnishing."

An example is a go-with-any style cocktail table which duplicates the lines of an 18th Century court-piece with a beveled glass top and detailed walnut base. Another highlight was an unabashed copy of a Louis XV arm chair.

The firm's upholstery fabrics, however, drew a less rigid distinction between traditional and contemporary patterns. Dramatic contrasts are achieved with creams, corals, grayed greens and gold — with red considered the dominant color.

Emphasis on upholstery fabrics was noted by still another firm. Counting on colors, patterns and textures to set the "mood" in a room, the selection ranges in color from shrimp and celadon green to pewter and electric blue, in florals, stripes and small-patterned French prints. Textures include smooth silks, nubby weaves and leather.

Newest is the suede leather. "Suede leather is a natural for furniture styling, just as it has been for fashion apparel," says Jack Krayer, president of Montgomery. "It is sophisticated and elegant, yet it also can be casual. And it is extremely durable."

But, he added, "The intrinsic shape of an upholstered piece will always be the most important part of a buying decision."

So far it would be only speculative to judge how many buying decisions also will be affected by the increasing number of big name designers — such as Angelo Donghia, John Mascheroni and Kristomatti Rati — moving into the retail market.

At the same time, many manufacturers are relying on the identity of their brand names and adding items to appeal to space economy and other conveniences.

Creating a "total environment" bedroom was the concern of Richard A. Singer, president of Namaco, who says,

"People spend at least one-third of their lives in their bedroom, yet there's been very little personalized decorating."

INGREDIENTS FOR INVESTMENT

Housing prices have gone up steeply since the mid-60's for two basic reasons. First, the shortage of new savings made it difficult to finance private housing, and the number of new housing units built each year was far below that what it should have been. Since there is a steady growth in population, this puts pressure on our housing reserves and prices rise.

Second, there have been inflationary increases in the labor and materials costs that go into building a house. In most urban areas, land values continue to go up each year, too. Historically, real estate values have always increased faster than the cost of living. Thus, it is an excellent inflation hedge.

So here are the ready-made ingredients for a good investment. We all need housing of some kind, and according to the experts, the price of housing will continue to go even higher, though perhaps, not as dramatically as in the past few years.

Murray State Looking For First Win Against Choctaws Tonight

By TONY WILSON
Sports Editor

Mississippi College — a school of 3,500 students located in Clinton, Miss., and a member of the Gulf South Conference. Anything sound impressive so far?

If not, try a 22-7 1977-78 record that earned it a GSC title and a berth in the Division II national tournament. Coach Doug Hines brings those credentials into the Sports Arena tonight for a 7:30 p.m. clash with Murray State.

The Choctaws were undefeated heading into last night's game with Western Kentucky in Bowling Green. The Hilltoppers were picked as the second-best team in the Ohio Valley Conference in a preseason coaches' poll, but they barely squeezed out a 56-53 decision.

All of which seems to make the Racers and coach Ron Greene's search for their first victory anything but a cinch. Murray State, 0-2, was surprised by Tennessee Wesleyan 81-70, then dropped an 81-66 decision to fourth-ranked Kansas Saturday.

Mississippi College and Racers teams have played 12 times in the past, and Murray has won 11 of them. The Choctaws lone victory was a 70-62 triumph last season.

The Choctaws' four victories have come at the expense of Millsaps College (Miss.), 79-68; Bell Haven (Miss.), 71-55; Christian Southern College (Memphis), 69-67; and Livingston University, 51-50, a fellow GSC member. The latter two wins earned Mississippi College the title in its invitational tournament last weekend.

6-5 junior Hilton Harrell has been the big gun for the Choctaws thus far. He owned a 17-point average heading into last night, but upped it with a 22-point performance that led all scorers.

Western Kentucky jumped to an 8-0 lead, but Mississippi College outscored the Hilltoppers 18-0 over the next ten minutes and took a 21-14 halftime lead.

Western finally tied the game at 51-51 at the 1:34 mark and took the lead for good with 38 seconds left. Senior guard Greg Jackson led the 'Topper scoring with 18 points.

Felder, the only returning starter from last year, averages 16.5 points a game, Hurst, 12.3; Evans, 8.0; and Mackey, 10.0.

Last year's team was the best in Mississippi College modern history. It finished 13-3 in league play, including a victory at Livingston late in the season to sew up the title, and advanced to the NCAA Division II South Central Regionals before losing.

Tonight's game will mark the first of six games over a 12-day period for the Racers. They face New Orleans Thursday, Samford Saturday, then return for four straight home games.

Probable starters, their position and averages for Murray include Roy Taylor, guard, 17.0; Tom Adams, guard, 4.0; John Randall, forward, 14.0 and Keith Oglesby, center, 8.5. The other forward spot will be filled by either Alan Mann (7.5) or Herman Boyd (0.0).

Wildcats Romp In Record Fashion

By The Associated Press

Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall knows his team isn't the greatest, at least not yet.

"What is exciting to me as a coach is that there is so much room for improvement," said Hall, after watching his defending national champions demolish West Texas State 121-67 Monday night.

"I enjoyed the game as much as the spectators," he added. "We still showed selfishness at times and we need more poise, but I can't ask for more hustle. We won on guts and determination."

Those qualities are admirable, but they don't necessarily make for a title contender. Kentucky, after losing players like Jack Givens, Rick Robey, Mike Phillips and James Lee from last year's NCAA winner, is ranked only 10th in the latest AP college basketball poll.

Hall knows that with a game against Kansas on Saturday and subsequent games against Indiana, Texas A&M and Notre Dame, his club will have ample opportunity to prove itself.

LaVon Williams and Dwight Anderson scored 17 points apiece and Fred Cowan added 16 as Kentucky recorded the largest point total in the three-year history of Rupp Arena.

In other games involving nationally ranked teams, No. 3 Notre Dame overpowered Rice 105-61, No. 5 Kansas beat Boise State 82-68, No. 12 LSU defeated intrastate rival Tulane 109-85, No. 14 North Carolina topped Detroit 93-76 and No. 15 Nevada-Las Vegas trimmed No. 19 Maryland 94-88.

Notre Dame shot 63 percent from the field in routing Rice, with Bruce Flowers leading the way with 17 points. The Irish, who enjoyed a 46-24 rebounding edge, scored the final four points of the first half and the first 15 of the second to break the game open at 65-36.

Guard Darnell Valentine scored 18 of his 20 points in the second half as Kansas turned back Boise State. The Wildcats led 48-38 at halftime and, built the margin as high as 21 in the second half.

Sophomore DeWayne Scales scored a career-high 31 points and grabbed 14 rebounds and Al Green added 26 points as LSU topped Tulane by scoring a school-record 70 points in the second half. The Tigers, 4-0, shot 63 percent from the field.

Mike O'Koren scored 26 points to help North Carolina defeat Detroit. The Tar Heels' press caused five steals that helped North Carolina build a 27-15 lead in the first half.

Nevada-Las Vegas, utilizing a full-court press for about half the game, came up with 15 steals and forced the Terps into 30 turnovers in the night's only battle of nationally ranked teams.

Elsewhere, Cedric Hodges scored 26 points and Jim Graziano added 21 to lead South Carolina to an 85-71 victory over Harvard; Joe Barry Carroll had 19 points to lead five Purdue players in double figures as the Boilermakers rolled over Northern Colorado 91-57; and Al Daniel scored 30 points to lead Furman over North Carolina-Charlotte 91-73.

Tony Wells, who played high school basketball at Calloway County, hopes to help Hawaii's Rainbows improve upon their 1-26 1977-78 season.

Hawaii Eight-0

Former Laker Wells A Rainbow Now

University of Hawaii Sports Information Office HONOLULU, HAWAII — What's 80 inches long and unlocks doors?

Well, if you're University of Hawaii coach Larry Little, the answer to that one is easy — Tony (James) Wells.

"Tony is the key to the Rainbow season," said Little of the 6-8 center, last year's leading scorer and rebounder.

Wells finished last season with a solid 14.8 scoring average and 7.3 rebounding average, marks that could be surpassed this year thanks to nine returning lettermen and six talented newcomers.

A transfer from the University of Dayton, where he started center during his freshman and sophomore years, Wells spoke optimistically about this year's team.

"We've had more intensity this past week in practice. The guys are showing a lot of enthusiasm and there's more competition," said Wells. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wells of Murray, Wells played basketball for Calloway County High School from 1970-74.

He looks forward to the tough schedule this year because he is a competitor. "I wouldn't mind it if the schedule were rougher still," said the articulate Wells, who is majoring in elementary education.

Indeed, Hawaii faces another rugged season with the likes of such highly-rated teams as Brigham Young, New Mexico State, Illinois State and Nevada-Las Vegas. UNLV was ranked in the top 20 in a pre-season UPI poll.

Also coming up for the Rainbows is the Rainbow Classic Dec. 27-30, featuring traditional basketball powers Arizona State and Tennessee.

"I'll have a chance to prove myself against some very good players," said the 22-year-old Wells.

The Rainbows will open their 1978 season on the road in Provo, Utah, Nov. 24, when they face Brigham Young's Cougars, favorites to take the Western Athletic Conference.

Hawaii makes its first home stand Dec. 8 against the University of Portland. It seeks to improve upon a 1-26 '77-'78 mark.

Brown Named At Austin Peay

By the Associated Press
CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. — Austin Peay President Robert O. Riggs announced Monday that Brown would succeed James "Boots" Donnelly, who left the Governors at the close of this season for his alma mater, Middle Tennessee State.

Rick Posey Signs With Murray State

Rickey Posey, a 6-3, 230-pound offensive lineman from Russellville High School, has become the third area prep football performer to sign a grant-in-aid with Murray State University.

Posey started three seasons for coach Ken Barrett as an offensive and defensive tackle and was twice selected first team All-Western Kentucky Conference.

Posey served as team captain of his squad as a senior and was selected the top defensive lineman for Russellville in 1978. Posey was also a shot put specialist for Russellville's regional championship track team last year.

Posey will probably be used at offensive guard for the Racers. He can bench press in excess of 400 pounds.

Tonya Alexander (left) controlled the opening tip and continued to dominate much of the game between Murray High and Fulton City last night. The Tigers romped to a 51-26 season-opening victory. Alexander scored 18 points and grabbed 23 rebounds.

Alexander, Washer Lead Murray High In Opener

By TONY WILSON
Sports Editor

No real celebrating went on after the game; just a sense of relief by coach Rick Fisher after his Murray High girls basketball team had played — and won — its season opener against Fulton City last night.

The Bulldogs was unimpressive, to say the least. They entered the game with a 1-4 record, with one of those losses a 63-36 decision to Calloway County. Murray High handed them loss No. 5, holding the visitors to less than ten points in every quarter en route to a 51-26 triumph.

"We just wanted to get this one over with," said Fisher. "This game shows us what we have to do, what we have to accomplish. The games we have coming up may be too much for us to handle this early."

The games Fisher spoke of are against Lowes, last year's First Region champion, Thursday; against Christian County, a strong Second Region squad, Monday; and against Fulton County, which Fisher considers one of the two best teams in the region, Dec. 14.

"They will be tough games to win, but that's what we like for a schedule," said Fisher. "Playing those types of teams early will help us during tournament time later on."

Last night's romp should have helped the Tigers' confidence. They jumped to a 30-12 halftime lead, their biggest lead of the first half, and were never threatened.

Sophomore center Tonya Alexander led Murray High with 20 points and 23 rebounds. Senior guard Jaina Washer hit 7 of 17 field-goal attempts for 16 points. The pair were the only Tigers to score in double figures.

"I don't know if we're ready for Lowes," said Fisher. "But we are as far as desire is concerned. We got good efforts from everyone."

Fulton City outrebounded Murray 53-52, but the big discrepancy came in field-goal shooting. The Tigers hit 19 of 59, just 32 percent, but were sharpshooters compared to the ice-cold Bulldogs.

They hit only 9 of 59 tries (15 percent) and had just three field goals the entire first half.

Alexander paced the Tigers in the first half, scoring 14 points, and only their inability to hit consistently from the field kept the lead from being any bigger at the half.

Just 13 points were scored by both teams in the third quarter, but Murray out-pointed the visitors 13-9 in the last quarter for its 25-point margin.

"We didn't shoot well, obviously, but we still scored 50-some points. It took us until after Christmas last year to do that," said Fisher. His '77-'78 squad dropped six of its first seven games before bouncing back to capture the Fourth District crown in March.

Fisher started one senior (Washer) and four sophomores, a mixture he feels will hinder his squad at first but help it later. "We're fighting inexperience now," he said. "But I think we will surprise some people later on when we come together as a team."

Fulton City frosh 36, Murray 34

David Schmaltz pumped in 13 points for the Tigers in their season opener, but Fulton City's William Jones hit a layup with less than 10 seconds left to give his team an unsurmountable four-point edge.

David McMillen added seven for Murray, which led 13-11 at the half.

Fulton City — Barry Sceurce, 4; Allen Homra, 10; Jeff Caldwell, 7; Kevin Douglas, 4; William Jones, 8; Shane Brizzle, 1; Rick Cardwell, 2.

Murray High — David Schmaltz, 13; Stuart Alexander, 6; Ronnie Pace, 5; Walter Payne, 2; David McMillen, 7; Mike Boggess, 1; Todd Rutherford, Craig Crawford.

A Weary Bear

Chargers Limit Payton, Steamroll Chicago

By BOB RAST
AP Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO — "You got a son?" weary Chicago Bears running back Walter Payton rhetorically asked of a reporter. "Well, keep him away from football. It's too much abuse to your body. It'll mess up your life."

Payton's words came Monday night after the San Diego Chargers mopped the Bears in a National Football League game at San Diego Stadium, blowing Chicago away on the nation's television screens, 40-7.

The Chargers scored the first three times they had the ball and played like wildmen to atone in part for a 23-0 defeat by Kansas City eight days earlier. The victory evened their season record at 7-7 with two games remaining. The Bears dropped to 5-9.

Payton was limited to just 50 yards rushing on 17 carries as San Diego completely dominated each aspect of the game, controlling the ball for nearly 37 minutes and rolling up 481 yards in total offense to just 112 for the Bears.

Rolf Benirschke kicked two field goals. The first, from 32 yards, made it 3-0 with less than three minutes gone in the first period.

The Chargers recovered a fumble by Chicago's Brian Baschnagel on the ensuing kickoff. That led to a touchdown on a 1-yard run by Lydell Mitchell of the Chargers.

On San Diego's third possession, after a Chicago punt, Dan Fouts drilled a 16-yard scoring pass to Larry Burton to give the Chargers their 17-0 edge.

"We didn't know how long Fouts would hold up," San Diego Coach Don Coryell explained after his star quarterback connected on 17 of 24 passes for 268 yards. His two touchdown passes were to wide receivers Burton and rookie John Jefferson.

"I was not surprised that they threw the ball as much as they did because they put him in to throw it, not to run it," Chicago Coach Neill Armstrong conceded. "Everything they did worked well."

Armstrong called the fiasco "an old-fashioned kicking."

Junior-High Boys Notch First Wins

The Southwest and Murray Middle boys basketball teams picked up their first victories in area junior-high action last night.

Southwest edged North Calloway 46-42, and Murray Middle bombed Fulton City 38-16. In girls action, both Murray Middle and Southwest kept their unbeaten seasons alive with 48-5 and 24-20 decisions, respectively.

Southwest boys 46, North 42
Jeff Butterworth pumped in 16 points and Chris Sheridan added 15 as the Lakers won their first game in four starts. Barry Tebbetts added 12 points for the losers.

Southwest girls 24, North 20
Lynn Cothran tossed in 17 points and grabbed 10 rebounds to pace the winners to their fourth-straight victory.

Carol Garner and Cindy Bazzel scored nine points each for the losers, who fell to 0-3 with the loss.

Southwest led only 24-18 at the half but outscored North 17-0 in the third quarter to

Southwest — Lynn Cothran, 17; Cindy Anderson, 14; Donna Coles, 4; Melissa Paschall, 4; Tammy Trease, 4; Rhonda McAllister, 2; Lorri Malcolm, 4; Terry Malcolm, 2; Lorri Manning, 2; Sandy Turner, 2.

North — Carol Garner, 9p; Cindy Bazzel, 9; Wilder, 2.

MM girls 48, Fulton City 5
Glenda Fox 16 points paced the Tigers to their third win without a loss at Fulton City. Donna Rousseau chipped in eight for the winners, who led 23-0 at the half.

Velvet Jones added 10 steals and Jill Burken grabbed four rebounds for Murray Middle.

Murray Middle — Glenda Fox, 16; Donna Rousseau, 10; Mel Kelly, 8; Velvet Jones, 3; Monica Greene, 3; Raysha Roberts, 2.

Fulton City — Whitesell, 5; Davis, Smith, Farrell, Clark.

MM boys 38, Fulton City 16
Tim Brown and Jimmy West poured in 12 and 8 points, respectively, to give the Tigers their first triumph against two losses.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1978
What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) ♈
Cooperative efforts go well in the a.m., but later you may feel frustrated re a work or health situation. Avoid arguments about religion.

TAURUS
(Apr. 20 to May 20) ♉
A social situation that begins well may not turn out as anticipated. Keep business details to yourself, and don't expect empathy from others.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20) ♊
Don't let problems in other areas of life interfere with the work you have to do. A cooperative attitude serves you well on the job.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22) ♋
Others may not be receptive to your ideas now, but good will should prevail as long as you maintain a cheerful attitude.

LEO
(July 23 to Aug. 22) ♌
Someone may try to sweet-talk you into seeing their point of view. If that doesn't work, expect to see a different side to their personality.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) ♍
A goodbye kiss in the morning may not be enough to insure harmony with close ones. Don't let today's problems make you insensitive.

LIBRA
(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) ♎
Be cordial at work today, for as the day progresses others may seem ornery. Watch health, nerves, and careless remarks, but remain positive.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) ♏
The day starts out on a harmonious note, but later small obstacles test would-be friends. A friend may well deserve the epithet "party pooper."

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) ♐
You can't be in two places at once, but that's what you may think others expect of you today. Duty may call when you'd rather stay at home.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) ♑
Your problem-solving techniques seem amiss today, but advice from a friend in the a.m. will lead to a closer feeling between you.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) ♒
Monies due you may be slow in coming and you may be reluctant to ask for financial help, which, perhaps, is just as well today.

PISCES
(Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) ♓
Affectionate ties at a distance prosper, but others close by may find your moods unfathomable and you may find them somewhat distant.

YOU BORN TODAY are more marriage-minded and domestically inclined than the typical Sagittarian. You also have a cheerful willingness to accept responsibility. You'll find yourself a respected member of the community once in touch with a message that reaches the heart of humankind. With a feeling for universal principles, you gravitate towards the arts and can make a fine contribution to humanity in literature, art, music and the theater.

facilities to operate in the city;
— Heard a progress report, and received a rough draft, of a new land use element of the city's comprehensive plan;
— Talked about some upcoming hearings dealing with the city's attempt to apply again for federal community development funds.

Zea said the public safety committee of Murray City Council has invited Stewart to Murray to review findings from a recent traffic survey in Murray and talk about the impact of creating some one-way streets in the city.

Zea said also Monday night that DOT officials may call a public hearing, possibly early next year, to look again at a four-laning project for Main. According to officials, that project surfaced in the early 70s but public outcry stopped it. Zea said the project "has gone through the design phases" and he said the money is available to start the project.

Some commission members Monday night said they were concerned they had not been contacted about the meeting with Stewart. Consensus was to call a joint meeting between the council committee and planning commission, possibly on the commission's regular meeting day this month — Dec. 19.

Zea Monday night also reviewed construction progress on 12th Street. He said ground breaking could begin next summer.

The amendment to the city zoning ordinance allowing for privately owned outdoor recreational facilities in Murray, should it be adopted, would add a new subsection to Article IV of the ordinance. Go-cart tracks and miniature golf ranges would be two examples of facilities coming under the proposed amendment.

The proposed updated section of the city's comprehensive plan deals with land use and outlines such things as future land use policies and recommendations, and zoning considerations. And, Zea said the city will be applying again for community development funds. A public hearing is slated Dec. 11 at Douglas Community Center to deal with the grant application.

Official Says Most Growers Aware Of New Warehouse Law

By HERBERT SPARROW
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) —

The man in charge of enforcing a new state law requiring equal treatment for tobacco growers by warehouses believes most growers are aware of the law despite few complaints of discrimination.

Assistant Attorney General Ray Larson, whose office is charged with enforcing the law, says there was only one formal complaint of discrimination during the first two weeks of sales.

However, Larson conceded a better impression of the law's impact will be obtained after the selling season ends.

"It will be after the season before we actually have a real honest evaluation," Larson said.

"I think most growers are aware of the law," Larson said. "We are getting a lot of feedback with a lot of questions for clarification."

The 1978 General Assembly passed the law which requires that all growers must be given equal treatment by warehouses. The law replaced a 40-year-old statute prohibiting rebates and other special privileges by warehouses aimed at attracting customers.

The new law allows warehouses to offer such things as discounts on warehouse fees or free hauling of tobacco to market, but requires that all growers must be offered the same inducements.

Small growers had charged that the old law was ignored by the warehouses for larger growers. And the warehousemen located near the state border claimed they were hurt by out-of-state warehouses that offered the rebates.

Larson said his budget for enforcing the law is limited and that he has only one investigator to send into the field. He said his main emphasis has been on education.

"We were unable to hire a ton of people," Larson said. "So we spent a lot on communicating to the farmers through the local ASCS (Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service) offices and through posters, two of which are in each warehouse in the state."

Larson said 150,000 flyers describing the law were distributed to the ASCS offices, while the posters were distributed to the warehouses by personnel from the Agriculture Department's Division of Weights and Measures as they checked the scales at the warehouses.

The posters encourage people who suspect a violation of the law to report it to the attorney general's office.

Larson said the one complaint so far is being looked into, but said he could not discuss details of it while the matter is under investigation.

the fund.
But administration sources had a contradictory version.

Gordon Duke, director of the Office for Policy and Management, said the first request for information from the lieutenant governor's office came the day before Thanksgiving and was filled six days later.

Duke said the data delivered was "a 2½-to 3-foot stack of information."

Duke said the next request came last Thursday and that much of the information sought was delivered to the lieutenant governor's office Friday and Saturday.

The governor, commenting through his press secretary's office, added:

"I find it difficult to believe that the lieutenant governor is only now making efforts to obtain information she should have obtained and analyzed in order to make a reasoned decision to call the General Assembly into session."

Carroll already has labeled Mrs. Stovall's special session call as irresponsible.

He said today that his staff will cooperate as fully with Atkins as it has with the lieutenant governor's office.

Both Atkins and Mrs. Stovall are Democratic candidates for governor next year, and both are anti-administration, Mrs. Stovall more mildly so.

Carroll was in Georgia at a training session for new governors Nov. 17, when Mrs. Stovall called the special legislative session for Dec. 11.

Monday, the governor was in Las Vegas to address a meeting of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Vinson . . .

Vinson said, "After I have made my official announcement for Commissioner of Agriculture — early in the new year — I plan to discuss these 10 points in detail with farmers, business leaders and consumers of Kentucky."

Born in Murray October 4, 1924, Vinson is an air Force veteran of World War II. His wife is the former Anne Stephens of Lexington, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Vinson and their 19-year-old son, Mark, reside at their home at 310 Oak Dale Drive, Murray.

Vinson has a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture from Murray State University and a Master of Science in agriculture from the University of Kentucky. He is a member of the Baptist Church, a 32nd degree Mason, and a member of the Farm Bureau. Currently he is Director of Alumni Affairs at his alma mater, Murray State, where he has headed the activities of some 24,000 graduates of that institution since October 15, 1968.

Gathering To Mark Christmas In France; Slated Thursday

Zeta Omicron Chapter of Pi Delta Phi, a society composed of honor students studying French, will sponsor a gathering centered around Christmas in France on Thursday, Dec. 7, Bert Ball, moderator of the chapter said today.

The gathering will be at the home of Christine Walker on Main Street. Mrs. Walker is a native of France.

Ball said Mrs. Walker will tell of Christmas in her native country and display traditional Christmas statues of saints, called saintons.

Those attending will also sing French Christmas carols, called cantiques de Noel. Also, French pastries, buches de Noel, will be served to those attending, Ball said.

Zeta Omicron Chapter of Pi Delta Phi is open to honor students in French at Murray State University or others interested in the French culture, Ball said. Tarpley Jones is president of the MSU chapter.

For those wanting further information about the gathering Thursday or who would like further information about the club, call Ball at 762-2501.
